

Urns containing the Oil of Catechumens, the Oil of the sick, and the sacred Chrism are in place prior to the Chrism Mass April 16, in the Cathedral of Saint John the Baptist, Savannah.
 Photograph by Paul H. Camp.

Below: Father Michael J. Kavanaugh, pastor, Saint Peter the Apostle Church, Savannah, venerates the Blessed Sacrament on April 18, Holy Thursday, after celebrating Mass on the feast of the Last Supper.
 Photograph by Jessica L. Marsala

Above: Father Michael J. Kavanaugh, pastor, Saint Peter the Apostle Church, Savannah, washes the feet of a parishioner during the Mass celebrating the feast of the Last Supper on April 18.

Left: A parishioner venerates the crucifix during the communion service of Good Friday at Saint Peter the Apostle Church, Savannah.
 Photographs by Jessica L. Marsala.

Far left: The faces of people in the pews at Sacred Heart Church, Savannah, are illuminated by candle flames ignited from the Paschal fire at the Easter Vigil Mass, April 20.
 Photograph by Michael J. Johnson.

Left: A child stares at the candle flame in his luminary during the Easter Vigil Mass at Saint Peter Claver Church, Macon, where eight people were welcomed into full communion with the Church.
 Photograph submitted by Regina Sweeny.

Left: Father John J. Lyons, pastor Sacred Heart Church, Savannah, anoints Teresa Johnson Bohach with the Oil of Catechumens completing her initiation into the Catholic Church with the sacrament of Confirmation.
 Photograph by Michael J. Johnson.

Below left: Father Gerald P. Ragan, pastor Saint Michael Church, Tybee Island, leads a prayer during an interdenominational 6:30 a.m. Easter sunrise service on the pier at Tybee Island.
 Photograph by Jessica L. Marsala.

Below: The cross erected on the pier at Tybee Island for the Easter sunrise service. This is the same cross seen on the front page.
 Photograph by Jessica L. Marsala.

